Life On The Road With The Master Wine Cellar Builder

Synopsis

This book is about all the adventures that I have experienced in my journey to places where most people do not get to go. This is not just about all the stars and celebrities and their wine cellars but is about people, monuments, things, and places along the roads of this great country of ours. Since about 1995, wine cellars, have become extremely popular on both the East and West Coasts and of course in the Midwest. My company is devoted exclusively to the design, consultation, and construction of custom wine cellars. I have built wine cellars for stars, celebrities, sports figures, CEOs, top restaurants, and of course wine enthusiasts across the country. I now travel around the country in an American Eagle motorhome seeing more of the country in a month than most people might see in a lifetime. I choose to live anywhere The Wine Cellar RV will take me. I could be eating lunch in Manhattan with a friend or building a wine cellar for a star or celebrity across the country. Sit back, relax, and enjoy your visit through the United States.

I really liked this book. What I REALLY like is the wine cellar the author built for me! The book gives lots of "do's and don'ts" about wine cellar building and is an entertaining look into what it is like being "John Seitz, the master wine cellar builder". I'm so glad I didn't get some everyday bloke to build mine! What fun it would be to travel across the US meeting interesting people and building gorgeous wine cellars for celebrities and rich people. This book has inspired me to get an RV and travel the country too. Maybe I'll meet the 'master wine cellar builder' at some RV park!!!

In 2011 I had the opportunity to pass John's RV several times on I-20 heading into Dallas and near an exit in Forney, Texas we both just happened to stop at the same gas station to fill up. Being a person who has to ask every person I meet, a question, I asked John a question and was overwhelmed with his honesty. Honesty is a tough find in the contracting business anymore. Being a successful carpenter in my earlier life working on high end homes in Texas, I would more than likely had someone of John Seitz's background watching over my shoulder to make sure I did the job installation CORRECTLY from the start. These wine cellar room's are not cheap to begin with, so you want a contractor who knows the proper procedure to do the job right the first time. John Seitz will get the call whenever I notice a project for a wine cellar installation being built. Also, John takes you on the road with his dog, Torrey! What a team, what a life together! A fun and informative read indeed! John P

Good little time waster on a rainy day, a few interesting stories about "life on the road". Seems there is a lot of the "look at me and who I've met", becomes boring quickly. Nice story about the dog, the motorhome seems to be the starring character, not much about wine cellars.... Glad I bought it online, not the paperback...spell check would be nice as well...ho-hum.

A wonderful light read with great tips on wine cellars. As a fellow RV enthusiast, I could relate to the great stories of the open road. I would highly recommend!
